H. Criteria for Receiving Financial Awards from McMaster Divinity College

- Students must be studying full-time (enrolled in 24 or more units per year or enrolled in the Ph.D. program) or working in full-time ministry.
- Students must not be on academic probation. Aid is two-tiered: one level is for those with an average over B- and the other is for those with averages over B+.
- Demonstrated Christian character.
- Bursaries are granted on the basis of demonstrated financial need.
- Funds are granted only for specified academic years and cannot be deferred.
- Only students who have been admitted to a graduate program of studies will be considered for scholarships.
- Applications must be made each year, as awards are not automatically renewed.

Declaration

I declare that the information provided in this application is accurate and true. I have read and understand the criteria for receiving financial awards from McMaster Divinity College (above). I also understand that financial assistance applications received by MacDiv after the application deadline will only be considered if funds are still available.
